

ROUNDHOUSE AQUARIUM
TEACHING CENTER
MANAGED BY OCEANOGRAPHIC TEACHING STATIONS, INC.

WHY DO DOLPHINS SURF?

A CONVERSATION WITH FOUR AVID SURFERS

When:

Wednesday, September 17, 2025
6:00 PM - 7:00 PM

Where:

Manhattan Beach Library
1320 Highland Ave, Manhattan Beach, CA

Join us for an informative and engaging evening with our panel:

Keani Honda-Snow – Captain of her Redondo Union High School Surfing Team and a member of the South Bay Boardriders Club.

John Dorsey – Professor Emeritus in Environmental Science from Loyola Marymount University and a watershed management researcher.

Jason Shanks – Founder of the surf shop Nikau Kai Waterman located in downtown Manhattan Beach.

Eric Martin – The Roundhouse Aquarium's Aquarist and also the Head of its Coastal Bottlenose Dolphin Project.

We can't ask the dolphins why they surf, but these four avid surfers and panelists have been up close and personal with the dolphins and will tell of their experiences and give their opinions. You are quite likely to find out why people surf!

Chaired by John Roberts, a member of the Aquarium Board of Directors, and a Biology Professor Emeritus from California State University, Dominguez Hills

Presented by the OTS Coastal Bottlenose Dolphin Project

Free Event | No Registration Required

Questions? Email dolphin@roundhouseaquarium.org

In partnership with:

